» Top Rated, Hands-On
Hilda Alcindor
PhD(h), RN, FAAN
As a nurse of over 40 years, Dean Alcindor is the founding dean of the first Baccalaureate Nursing Program in Haiti (FSIL.org). She has an Honorary Doctorate from Saint Anselm College and was recently inducted into the American Academy of Nursing for her devotion to quality healthcare in Haiti. Fluent in four languages, she serves as a consultant internationally in nursing education and healthcare disparities in developing countries.

Anne Brett
PhD, RN
Dr. Brett has served at all levels of academia to include faculty, dean, and college president. She mentors faculty across the country in the areas of NCLEX® success, accreditation at all levels, and leadership.

Tim Bristol
PhD, RN, CNE, ANEF, FAAN
Dr. Bristol is a student success and retention specialist, focusing on classroom, lab, and clinical learning. He has worked with faculty and students at all levels internationally, making innovation in education accessible to over 900 nursing programs annually.

Paula Byrne
DNP, PHN, RN
Dr. Byrne started her nursing career in arctic Alaska learning how rural nurses get creative in care delivery every day. She has worked in many care settings both in and out of the hospital. For the past 10 years she has served as the Traditional Baccalaureate Chair of Undergraduate Nursing at The College of St. Scholastica. She has experience developing and leading faculty teams, accreditation preparation, and report writing. Dr. Byrne designed Interprofessional course work using veteran healthcare as the model as part of a significant HRSA grant. Disruptive Innovative technology in nursing is where she focused her doctoral work.

Michele L. Deck
Med, BSN, LCCE, FACCE
Michele Deck is known internationally for her innovative and active learning strategies. She has been training educators and trainers full-time for the last 30 years. She has won the “Excellence in Nursing” award and has been selected as one of the “Great 100 Nurses of Louisiana.”

John Grainger
PhD, MA
Dr. Grainger has served as a consultant and educator to K12, higher education, and corporate professionals for over 30 years. Specializing in organizational communication, team-building, and conflict resolution, Dr. Grainger’s ability to guide collaboration and communication serves as an invaluable tool to any faculty member.

J. Raney Linck
PhD, MSN, RN
Dr. Linck is a simulation and clinical specialist at the University of Minnesota. His years of experience in academic and practice-based education have given him a reputation for innovation in classroom, lab, and clinical learning environments. He serves as a mentor and resource for LGBT students, nurses and faculty.

Teri Murray
PhD, RN, APHN-BC, FAAN
Dr. Murray is the Dean of St. Louis University School of Nursing. She has worked to advance diversity in nursing education by obtaining federal Nursing Workforce Diversity funding to expand educational opportunity to underrepresented groups in nursing education and through her service on the National Advisory Committee to the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, and much more. Her passion is to improve the health status of vulnerable or at-risk populations.

L. Jane Rosati
EdD, MSN, RN, ANEF
Dr. Rosati is a well-known speaker, workshop presenter, and contributing author on the topic of concept-based learning and active learning techniques in the classroom. A professor at Daytona State College, School of Nursing, Dr. Rosati has experience in both the teaching and administrative areas of nursing education. She was a 2011 recipient of the National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD) Medallion of Excellence Award for Teaching and Learning. Her focus is on helping students become self-directed learners and faculty become comfortable with conceptual-based learning in the classroom. Dr. Rosati has been in nursing for 40 years and has worked in multiple patient-care settings and management areas.

Karin J. Sherrill
MSN, RN, CNE, CHSE, ANEF, FAADN
Karin Sherrill is a nurse educator with a passion for faculty development and student success. She teaches at Maricopa Community Colleges and Upper Iowa University, specializing in the integration of the flipped classroom and simulation across the curriculum. As a consultant, speaker, and author she has helped faculty nationwide.

Winsome Stephenson
PhD, MSN, RN, CNE
Dr. Stephenson is a Nurse Educator with NurseTim. Her area of expertise includes test item writing, NCLEX® student success, use of transformative learning strategies in the classroom, and faculty development. Dr. Stephenson is passionate about nursing education and ensuring the next generation of nurses are fully trained to use clinical judgment as they ensure quality outcomes in a continually diverse and transformative healthcare system. Dr. Stephenson has had the opportunity to hold several roles in the academic setting as faculty, faculty chair, dean of academic affairs, faculty development specialist and curriculum and instruction developer. She received her undergraduate degree from Pace University and her graduate degrees from Georgia State University.

Virginia Wangerin
PhD, RN, CNE
Dr. Wangerin is an educator, consultant, and speaker with nearly 40 years’ experience in nursing. She has taught at the ADN, BSN and graduate level, and currently is Assistant Clinical Professor and Director of Nursing Education at Iowa State University. Dr. Wangerin is recognized as a lifelong leader and nursing advocate, serving on numerous committees and boards, advocating for the profession and at-risk populations. She has developed and implemented concurrent enrollment programs and concept-based curriculum. Dr. Wangerin is a consultant and speaker for accreditation, curriculum development, learning strategies and outcomes assessment.

Mary Judith Yoho
PhD, RN, CNE
Dr. Yoho is the System Dean of Nursing for Herzing University’s PN, ASN, BSN, RN-MSN and MSN programs. With 40 years of nursing experience, she has served in practice, research, policy development, and leadership. Dr. Yoho has been a NLN Certified Nurse Educator for over 10 years.

Welcome, disclosures, overview

8:15-9:15 NCSBN Update on Clinical Judgment and Next Generation NCLEX®
Philip Dickison, PhD, RN, NCSBN Chief Officer, Operations and Examinations
National Council of State Boards of Nursing
As an integral part of the health care team, nurses face many challenges resulting from rapid changes within the healthcare field. As the demand for nurses at all practice levels increases, entry level nurses are expected to possess sound clinical judgment skills, along with their more experienced colleagues. In this session, the speaker will discuss NCSBN’s continued research on nursing clinical judgment and the associated measurement framework and work related to the Next Generation NCLEX®.

9:15-10:15 Clinical Judgment in the Classroom, Lab, and Clinical – Hands-On Response to NCSBN Update
Tim Bristol, PhD, RN, CNE, ANEF, FAAN
The ever changing healthcare landscape necessitates a change in the educational experience of future professionals. In this hands-on workshop, participants will explore classroom, lab/sim, and clinical learning activities that help prepare students for the Next Generation of NCLEX® and, more importantly, for the ever changing healthcare industry. Developing clinical judgment learning activities requires all educators to take a close look at the patient interaction and consider what concepts are involved. They next need to use clinical imagination to ensure that the learner can see the ‘bedside’ in all that they are studying. Combine these strategies and your students will get to experience Next Gen Learning.

10:15-10:45 Break with exhibitors and poster voting

10:45-11:45 Clinical Judgment Tools for Nurse Educators
Michele Deck, MEd, BSN, LCCE, FACCE
The formation of clinical judgment requires creative, multifaceted approaches to teaching that ensure success. In this session you will examine creative teaching strategies to teach a variety of learners content and skills that are essential to nursing practice.

11:45-1:00 Lunch (included) and poster display/discussions/voting

Vote for best in four categories: Creative, Evidence-Base, Immediate Application, NCLEX® Focus
A. Skills Fair for Faculty – Fundamental Skills
Karin Sherrill, MSN, RN, CNE, CHSE, ANEF, FAADN
Many educators become rusty at performing fundamental skills the longer they are away from the bedside. We often evaluate the student’s performance but lack proficiency in current practice. This fast-moving, hands-on Skills Fair will allow you to become the student at one station and the evaluator at the next. Learn best practice with skill performance, application of clinical judgment, and evaluation.

B. Maternity in the Classroom
Michele Deck, MEd, BSN, LCCE, FACCE
Developing competency in the area of maternal/women's health is important to students at all levels of nursing education. Using strategies that engage students and their varied learning styles will promote competency in maternal/women's health and increase student understanding of how to learn. The six strategies addressed in this session focus on higher order thinking and use relatively simple tools. Emphasis is placed on classroom and clinical learning, however, it can be applied to other settings as well.

C. Remediation Matters – Cracking the Code for Faculty
Elsevier Representative
Assessment has multiple purposes. One of the main reasons for assessment data is for the learner to understand their own personal strengths and weaknesses. Think what it would be like to take a patient's vital signs and not do anything with the collected data. That is what happens when students are quizzed or tested and they don't do anything with the data. Remediation matters as it is the response recent assessment data for student success. This session will focus on concrete strategies faculty can use to help students take control of their own gaps.

D. iPads, Tablets, and Handhelds: A Hands-on Exploration of the Evidence Base!
J. Raney Linck, PhD, MSN, RN
Keeping clinical reasoning as the central theme, we will explore the use of mobile devices in education. This hands-on session will give participants an opportunity to experience strategies that have proven effective in all levels of education and practice. From active learning to assessment and professional practice, the power and pitfalls of these devices will be addressed. (Bringing a device is welcomed, but not required.)

The 8 Client Needs of the New NCLEX®: Discharge Planning Begins on Admission (Part 1)
Tim Bristol, PhD, RN, CNE, ANEF, FAAN

Admission, Remediation, Retention, Success -- From Fundamentals to Licensure. The new NCLEX® brings to light the need for every educator across the curriculum to address the Client Needs continuously. Because of the increased focus on clinical judgment, it is vital to start early. Students need to learn the concepts in the same way in which they will use them. Whether you are teaching maternal/child, critical care, or even pharmacology, the primary goal of the classroom experience will be to allow the students to BE a nurse. Allow the students to move from critical thinking and problem solving to CLINICAL JUDGMENT. This hands-on session will help every educator experience the client needs in a way that each one can do something new tomorrow. Scrubs are not required, but acceptable.

Post-Conference

Leadership Development for Success Dinner
The Leadership Dinner is an opportunity for academic leaders to hear the lessons learned from a panel of seasoned leaders. Participants will have an opportunity "stump the stars" by posing critical questions as opportunities for improvement as they anticipate the upcoming academic year. Enjoy a delicious dinner and start building a collegial network of fellow academic leaders.

3 Breakout Session
8:30-9:45

4 Oral Poster Presentation Options
Create your own experience. In each category, three poster abstracts will be selected to share a 20-minute oral presentation. Emphasis will be on direct application and how faculty can enhance what they are currently doing to meet key goals. When you share, we all win.

A. Culture and Diversity
Emphasis is placed on both how to help students from diverse backgrounds and how to help faculty integrate culture and diversity into every learning experience.

B. Clinical and Simulation Management
These oral abstracts will focus on best practices and the evidence-base in managing clinical and simulation learning experiences.

C. NCLEX®
These oral abstracts will demonstrate concrete strategies that can impact program NCLEX® first time pass rates.

D. Curricular Success
Success comes when faculty and students are working together to enhance outcomes. These three oral presentations will give concrete exemplars of programs attaining success for all.

4 Breakout Session
10:15-11:30

A. Clinical Grading: Assessing Student Performance
J. Raney Linck, PhD, MSN, RN
With an increased emphasis on clinical judgment, grading clinical is more important than ever before. When giving feedback to students, does it empower them to grow in their clinical judgment ability? Faculty are challenged in that every student is different as is every clinical experience. In this hands-on session faculty will practice using different clinical grading strategies that are both valid and transferable to many different clinical learning experiences.

B. Pharmacology in the CBC – Conceptual Learning for Pharmacology
Tim J. Bristol, PhD, RN, CNE, ANEF, FAAN
Integrated? Concentrated? Safety-focused? NCLEX® focused? Conceptual learning strategies bring pharmacology into focus for students. Given that pharmacology is one of the more challenging parts of any curriculum, using conceptual learning can really help both students and faculty, even if they are not in a concept-based curriculum. This session will help faculty identify strategies for bringing pharmacology to life in every classroom, lab, and clinical learning experience. By showing students how to holistically approach patient care, their ability to critically think through pharmacology concerns will improve.

C. Preventing Incivility: Crucial Conversations Across the Curriculum
John Grainger, PhD, MA & Anne Brett, PhD, RN
Join us as we take steps to not only define incivility but also develop parameters for assessing the incivility, establish a course of action for dealing with the incivility, and, finally, apply communication tools to resolve incivility. We will use role play to specifically address situations that arise all too often. Our goal is to create a healthy working environment in both the classroom and the organization as a whole, as we address incivility through a focus on prevention.

D. Note Taking That Works for Prioritization Power (hands-on)
Karin J. Sherrill, MSN, RN, CNE, CHSE, ANEF, FAADN
When students are processing large volumes of information, it is difficult for them to reach higher levels of cognitive learning (e.g. application and analysis). Helping students learn how to learn begins with helping them form effective and efficient methodology in managing large amounts of information. This often includes creating habits related to note taking while reading and during lecture. Participants will explore these principles through hands-on activities meant to replicate the student experience.
